HOMEcoming WEEKEND PARADE, SUNDAY, OCT. 3

FIRST HOMEcoming WEEK END JUDGED SUCCESS

Blessed by excellent weather, Bethel's First Homecoming and the 175th Anniversary of the town's incorporation are now history, and judging by the comments, everyone had a very good time, as one should at a birthday party, and family got together.

The attendance record exceeded expectations: 275 registered at headquarters at the Methodist Church, and 282 at the Antique Exhibit (some of these names were also recorded at the Methodist Church, but far from all).

One hundred eighty-one people went to visit the Middle Intervale Meeting House, and for the majority it was a first visit, with all remarking on the need for this historic structure to be preserved. Many more visited the East Bethel Meeting House.

Once others came to town, as for the parade and did not register, it is probable that over 500 persons.

TELSTAR AND LEAVITT BATTLE TO 14-14 DRAW IN FOOTBALL

In one of the most exciting games played to date in the Mountain Valley Conference, Telstar High and host Leavitt High of Turner Center battled to a 14-14 tie last Saturday afternoon.

Following the opening kick-off the Leavitt Hornets marched the ball 96 yards in 12 plays with Greg Thompson bulging his way in from the one yard line for the game's first score. The rush by Thompson for the conversion failed.

Telstar retaliated in the second period when Ronnie Deegan hit and Dana Melville on a seven-yard pass play to tie the score. Rex Cummings put Telstar in front by making good on conversion kick.

Shortly before the half, Deegan again threw to Melville on a play that covered 47 yards and resulted in another six points for the Rebels. Rex Cummings made good the second of his extra point conversions.

During the third period the two teams waged a ferocious battle that saw ball possession see-saw between both clubs.

With seven minutes to play in the final stanza Greg Thompson broke loose around his right end and galloped 52 yards to paydirt. Greg Poland rushed the two point conversion to even the score.

Following the Leavitt score, Telstar drove deep into enemy territory before surrendering the ball to Leavitt on a fumble.

Thompson was outstanding for the Hornets as he accounted for more than half his team's total yardage.

Telstar backs Peter Blake, Ron Deegan and Kevin Trivard were inspirational in the Telstar effort. Linemen Dana Melville, Rex Cummings and Timmy Rosenberg were standouts offensively and defensively.

Telstar will meet Hall-Dale in a 1:30 home contest Saturday, Oct. 9

S. A. D. 44 BOARD MEETS AT ANDOVER

The S. A. D. 44 board of directors held a regular meeting at the Andover Elementary School on Monday evening of this week.

They approved the nomination of Mrs. Sara Treisman as secretary to the principal at Telstar Regional High School, and Mrs. Phyllis Dock as a part-time secretary in the superintendent's office.

Board action directed Bernard Gatchell, supervisor of buildings, grounds and transportation, to contact a local Licensed Master Electrician to see about the cost of hooking up the generator at Telstar Regional High School for use during a power emergency.

Telstar Principal Brian Flynn reported on the opening of the high school. Attendance has been good, and the institution of an in-school activity period seems to be an improvement over former practices. There has been an increase in the enrollment in the business and industrial arts departments.

Eddie Snyder of Andover spoke of some of the advantages of a Continuous Progress Program (non-graded). Ultimate inauguration of such a program in the Andover Elementary School was discussed. The issue will be on the agenda for the next regular board meeting.

Mr. Snyder, Supt. Robert Gerardi, and Andover Principal Robert Hamor attended a conference in Nova Scotia in early September pertaining to Continuous Education Programming. Mr. Gerardi discussed water damage at Crescent Park School sustained during a re-roofing project at

ACHIEVEMENT TESTS IN GRADES 2-6, S. A. D. 44 SCHOOLS DURING WEEK OF OCT. 11

All students in Grades two through six in M. S. A. D. 44 will be given achievement tests the week of Oct. 11. These tests are important to measuring the knowledge and skills already acquired by the students. By giving tests at this time of year, their teachers will be able to spot pupil weaknesses. The teachers can then plan their classes more effectively to maximize learning in their classrooms.

These tests are not in any way a part of the pupil's ranks. They also will not determine whether the student passes or not into the next grade.

It is important that students attend school during this week. Of course, if the child is too ill to attend, please keep him at home. Make-up tests will be scheduled for the following week.

The following suggestions are helpful in insuring that children will do their best on the achievement tests: 1. Make sure the child gets plenty of rest and a good night's sleep; 2. Prepare a good, nourishing breakfast; 3. Try and avoid unpleasant family scenes, which might take the child's mind away from the testing situation.

When the test results are ready, notice will be given to the parents to visit school and review them with the teachers.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corrae. —

Ten wonderful days we spent with the sea.

In a few short paragraphs I can never tell our days in full. We took the North Haven Ferry at Rockland at nine thirty, September 22. As we faced the sea I could feel my blood sparkling inside me, no longer heavy with summer lethargy. The sun was warm and the breeze not too stiff as we went out into the bay. The view was glorious and aromatic scents rose from the sea waters.

Day after day we spent at the beaches: some times journeying far to my "Nymph" under the supervision of my brother-in-law, a native of North Haven and with the experience of many years of piloting boats in the waters there. He guided us among the many islands, along the shores, up Mill River to Zion, Vinalhaven and little beaches where we stayed to picnic.

Carrying wooden clam baskets and short handled bent lined rakes we would start across the mud or rocky flats where we each took our turn at digging. Needless to say our seaman could accomplish more in a few minutes than we could in a half hour. We watched for the small air holes that indicated the presence of the clams then pushed our rakes into the solidly packed and sometimes rather foul smelling silt. With basket full, we'd prepare for steamed clams for lunch.

On some days we had lobsters somewhere on a lovely beach. Looking out to the sea there was the wide sky, the surge and sigh of the marching combers and the lobster men hauling their traps.

Now and then the sun blazed down on a bold stretch of coast, the pines, balsams and cedars swept back and up from the shore to the sky line as it shimmered in the heat and gave out a spicy fragrance. The sky was pure turquoise and the sea all sapphires, ruffled whitely where it laved the beach or rocks.

At another place we ate lunch from the top of smooth washed boulders while a plane climbed high above the sun burnished tree tops to scribble in the sky.

All day we loitered along the beautiful shore lines and explored when the sea was calm and safe for "Nymph" to master the waves.

We passed wonderful old homesteads sheltered from, or exposed to, the wide expanse of the sea, or nestled among trees almost human in the clasp of their protecting arms.

Gulls, ducks, or other sea birds came whirling by on the wings of the wind sprinkling side-wise down the ragged sky.

The sunsets were gorgeous and we could view them from the win-dow as we ate our evening meal at the home of our friend.

"Friendship is the sunflower of evenside Which brightens in each setting sun.
It blossoms and grows and is beautified
In the twilight when day is done
The walk in the evening shade At the side Of a precious and faithful friend, Experiences a feeling of infinite pride
To be treasured at each journey's end."
(Dean E. Scott)

Shades of pink and purple bloomed while the most radiant yellow green gleamed from the horizon a cross the bay. Each was the sunset of promise. A beautiful world was slipping to rest here on North Haven.

One night my sister and our friend went to the top of the hill beyond the house to watch the stars and the moon light on the bay.
When we left the house, dusk was drooping softly and a rose glow tinged the Camden Hills while nature shadows crowded the valley's. The words were black. We waited and watched as the sky became fully spanned with stars and

WOODSTOCK

Seventh-day Adventist Church

Friday evening, Oct. 8, the com-bined M. V. Societies from the Wood-stock, Oxford and Auburn Seventh-day Adventist Churches, will meet at the Auburn Church at 7:30. Miss Clare Bridgman, R. N., formerly of Auburn, but now a missionary on leave from Africa, will show slides and comment on the mission work at the hospital where she is on location. Miss Bridgman will be returning to Africa in November.

On Sabbath, Oct. 9, at the 11:30 a. m. Worship Service, the congrega-tion will hear a report on the "Voice of Prophecy" which is heard over station WKTQ each Sunday morning. Plans are being laid to move this program from a once-a-week, to an every day broadcasting.

The moon became brighter above the pointed trees.

There was a scrape of gravel, the sound of a boat, or a night bird broken by the wisp of the incoming tide as it licked whitely at the motionless boulders on shore like a sleek predatory sea monster sniff-ing at its prey.

Lights twinkled in distant horis-in Rockland and Camden as they nestled close against the hills. I'm sure one was a clean white church, its spire tipped with flame as it rose to greet a star. Light-houses blink-ed and our friend could name and locate them for us.

The air chilled so we left for the comfort of our little home, walking sluggish in the moonlight.

When we went to bed I presume the surf was booming, the gulls screaming, and the moon was still high. I fell asleep thinking that I could have stayed inside warm and cozy but was glad I hadn't.

On our return October 2, the sea was unbelievable blue and the waves high. I thought how long it would be before I returned again so I devoured the scene to take with me and to think about in the winter months, for:

"The call of the sea is a haunting call Where the lacy spume leaps high, And where in staccato notes is heard
The sound of a white gull's cry.
And its restless moods always draw me back,
For its pulsing force speaks to me A tale of adventure and secrets unfold,
And fathomless mystery."

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

both from away and local visited the various events. As for the remarkable entertainment depicting local history, the Telstar Auditorium was full—a very responsive audience.

Visitors came from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Florida, Maryland, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, and even Canada—these last were amazed to find the papers at the Historical Exhibit included the history of East Bethel's C. D. Howe, Engineer, whose life in Canada made such an impact there.
(He was Secretary of Munitions during World War II and held many other important posts).

Mrs. Eugenia Skinner Shorrock arrived on Friday, her car laden with valuable memorabilia, including the insignial gown worn at Andrew Jackson's inaugural by Mrs. Moses Mason, and a beaded gun case and moccasins presented her grandfather Daniel Hastings. Bethel native when he laid the railroad of the Northwestern Railroad from Wisconsin to Montana, and had an entire crew of Indian packers. Mrs. Shor-rock spent the summers of her youth here. She is the daughter of Mabel Hastings and Ernest Skinner—the great organ builder (built the one in the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City).

While most of the paintings in the Art Exhibit arranged at the Methodist Church were done by local persons, it was nice to note three by F.
Edward Hanscom, South Portland.
Formerly of Bethel, son of Gould's long-time headmaster. A painting of a "Turn in the Road", an autumn scene, won him second prize.

Arthur Gilbert's "Winter Moonlight Scene" won first prize, and Bernice Noyes' "Rumford Point Ferry" won third. There were 198 votes counted for the popular vote.
Leaf and flower arrangements here, as at the churches were lovely.

Nearly 40 children appeared at one o'clock Saturday afternoon to participate in several races on the Common. Rewarded by prizes. Winners were: Preston Cobb, Tony Butters, Chuck Hurd, Leslie Benn, Scott Smith, Peter Dolven, and Linda and Billy Yee, as well as Jimmy Cobb, Michele Angevine. This event was sponsored by the Nazarene Church and workers were: Rev. Roy Richards, James Cobb Sr., Llewellyn Cobb, Esther Sweetser.

The delicious dinner at the Congregational Church was attended by over 100 and great credit goes to the committee, and the many persons who donated food.

The historic episodes portrayed in the evening at Telstar were delightful, with old and young taking part, properly costumed, with commentary by the popular Rol-ie Glines. The music supplied by Doris Lord, Phyllis Dock, Cleveland Lovejoy, etc., was catchy and appropriate and the audience enjoyed joining in song. Rebecca Bailey had been to the family attic and

GOD IS DEAD!
You don't really believe God is dead do you? But how long has it been since you acted as if He was alive? If you're left communication break down between you and God, He is as much good to you as if He were dead. Only God can help you understand who you really are and what you really mean.

Once the passengers of a large plane were told that the plane would have to circle instead of landing immediately because a smaller plane was hopelessly lost in the fog and unable to land because it had lost communication with the ground. The landing field was being kept clear until the small plane could land. The passengers waited. Then, after about 20 minutes, the big plane suddenly landed. The passengers found out that the small plane had crashed.
Without its communication system working it had lost its way and crashed.

Many people have lost their communications with God and are still living and going their own way. But the life they are living is not the life God planned for them; it is not His best for them.

God is the only reliable guide who will never make a mistake. In Samuel God tells us "I will tell thee all that is in thine heart". Because we at the Bethel United Methodist Church want to know God's plan for us, we are holding study groups in addition to our other services. One of these groups can not be too far from you if you are looking for answers to life's problems.
Anyone who is seeking God's guidance is welcome. We are glad to have people from other churches join us; we are one in Christ. The times and places of these meetings are 10 a. m. Wednesdays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Abbott at the junction of Sunset Road and Route 26, Bethel; the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, Tyler Street, Bethel; and the Methodist Church, Mason Street, Bethel at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

SPECIAL MEETINGS AT THE NAZARENE CHURCH

The Rev. W. Orman Calder will be guest speaker for a series of special meetings, Oct. 10-17, at the Bethel Church of the Nazarene. Rev.
Calder has spoken throughout New England and Canada and is currently active as an evangelist in Maine.
Music will be supplied by the local church. Services are as follows: Week nights, 7 p. m.; Sundays, 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Visitors are welcome.

gotten together a charming historical bit showing the five generations residing at the Carter farm—Brick End House.

Nell Valentine, Rachel MacKay, Mrs. Florence Hastings, and all the delightful children and other members of the quilting scene made a hit.

Songs by Dorothy Lovejoy and also the Berlin White Mountain Echoes were enthusiastically received. The Suffragettes and Women's Lib brought some merriment, as did the Bouchards in their Merry Oldsmobile—a bumpy one. It is impossible to list everyone, and all were so good.

The program wound up with an impressive prayer for peace. For Bethel folks in 175 years have survived a good many wars—and would like their end.

The Sunday Service at the Congregational Church brought a full church to hear the visiting clergy.
All of whom were warmly welcomed as was Nestle Littlefield's fine music. Rev. Charles Pendleton gave the superb sermon.

The obsolete cars drew a crowd to Telstar where Mrs. Hilda Brown served an excellent lunch—those who missed out on this are unlucky!

Phyllis Dock did a great job rounding up handsome horses and fine horse men and women. Leading off the parade was Mrs. R. R. Tibbitts, charming in her lovely costume, driven by an excellent groom-man who handled the spirited steed with ease.

Judges of the parade were Richard Dolven, Gould Headmaster, Mrs.
Rosalee Thurston Wight of Rumford, and Brian Flynn, principal of Tel-star Regional High School. The obsolete cars came first and were rewarded by prize money drawn by lot. First prize was given the school house float of the Sudbury Inn. Prize for Best Walking Entry was the Telstar Band. Most Humorous, the Shrine Clowns. A cash prize was awarded to the three local Girl Scout troops for the prettiest costumes. Most unusual entry, Jane Baker, and her beautiful grey Arabian Mount. The many prizes were donated by Bethel businesses. (See list elsewhere).

Mrs. Ruth Hastings, former Bethel teacher, won a prize for being the 100th to register, and Mrs. Robert Gordon for being the 200th. Mrs.
Elizabeth (Mike) Marshall, 87, of Sunset Home, Bryant Pond, won the lovely rose blanket for oldest person (if anyone older attended they did not reveal their age as Mrs.
Marshall proudly did).

The couple from furthest away to win are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis of Gresham, Ore. It will greatly aid the committee, if these people and their complete address can be identified.

Now hopefully Bethel has started a new tradition and shall we start looking forward to Bethel's Second Homecoming in 1972!

TO THE PEOPLE OF BETHEL: We wish to extend a warm thank you to the many people in Bethel who responded to our requests for help with our First Annual Homecoming and 175th Anniversary Celebration plans. Without you it could not have been done so successfully.
As our active membership just would not have been able to do it all. It is impossible to thank each person individually, but will everyone who lent a hand in any way—from arranging windows, to baking a pie, helping with parade or costumes, exhibits, or church service or signs, or the many other things that helped to make these two days so successful.
To assure of our deep appreciation.

We, also are pleased that so many residents came to see our exhibits, parade, entertainment and church service.

FARM FIRES MORE SERIOUS BECAUSE OF ISOLATION Farm fires are potentially the most dangerous, because the farmer, his family, and his property are usually miles away from the nearest fire department or from neighbors who could lend assistance. Never is a farm so isolated as when a fire strikes.

Farm families should take all precautions to prevent accidental fires and they should use all methods of fighting fire if they do start, says Elwyn Morrow, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor in South Paris.

The Farmers Home Administration, in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, offers this list of fire prevention and protection ideas:

1. Make sure every member of your family knows how to call the fire department. Post the fire department number at the telephone.
Also make sure your fire department knows the layout of your farm, house and barn, and the location of water supplies.

2. Check condition of heating equipment, including chimneys and flues. Make all repairs necessary for safe operation.

3. Check electric wiring. Use only 15 ampere fuses unless a circuit has been especially designed for larger loads.

4. Keep fire fighting equipment accessible in an emergency.

5. Have ladders ready for escapes and for fighting roof fires.

6. Keep fire extinguishers on hand. Check them frequently and recharge them when necessary. Also, protect them from freezing during the winter months.

7. Maintain a water supply in cisterns and stock ponds. They may be the only source of water for fighting fires.

Four Bethel area woodsmen took two first places, one second, and one fifth place at the fourth annual Saco Valley Woodsmen's Field Day, Monday, Oct. 4.

In the class C chainsaw steeple-

The other contests in which Bethel

Over 50 competitors from all over the Northeastern United States and as far west as Michigan assembled fast becoming one of the largest logging and woodsmen's competition in the East.

"WOODSTOCK—IS IT CHANGING WITHOUT YOU?"

This is the title of the speech to be given by Dean Bennett, director tion Project, at the combined Chamber of Commerce-Conservation Commission meeting at the Town Hall in Bryant Pond, Wednesday, Oct.

13, at 7:30 p. m. He will discuss the scope of environmental changes occurring today; specific environmental changes and opportunities for improvement in the Woodstock Region; and ways community governzens can help make their community environment a reflection of their own values.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS SUNDAY RIVER

COUNCIL COMMENTS

Our football team has done a lot this year for the promotion of school spirit. Having won 3 and lost 0, Telstar charged on to Leavitt where they ended the game in a tie score, 14-14. Now, we're all looking forward to the game this week end against Hall-Dale, which will be preceded Friday by a bonfire rally and record hop.

Many Telstar students also participated in the Bethel Homecoming activities. The band and some of the cheerleaders were in the parade Sunday, while the night before a number of Drama Club members did the stage and lighting for the entertainment at Telstar's Auditorium.

That's about it from me this week. Good luck to the football team Saturday. — Betsy Stowell.

*This year's Outing Club will be going on a series of hikes one of which will be Mt. Washington. Attendance for the three hikes we have already accomplished, Royce Mountain, Mt. Spec and Bald Pate from Grafton Notch to Andover, have averaged around 15 students per hike. This week end hikers, hand-picked by our advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Applin, will conquer Mt. Washington.

Officers were elected last Thursday. They are: President, Howard Whitten; Vice President, David Lane; and Secretary, Ann Rolfe. We also have a planning committee to discuss future hikes. They are: the officers, plus, George Gibson, Debbie Weisner, and Ed Juhl. — Ann Rolfe.

The population has increased by at least three fellows. They are all outdoor types and real punkin' heads. These loafers slouch in their chairs round the clock, one of them with a couple of gallon jugs, pay no taxes and do no work. But they are nice to have around because they are pleasant to look at and don't stir up any arguments. I picked a quart of large, sweet strawberries, corn, tomatoes and cukes on Oct. 6. This is most unusual as we have often had snow flurries by this date.

TELSTAR SPORTS THIS WEEK

Telstar High varsity footballers, earning a record of 3-0-1 in Mountain Valley Conference play, will act as hosts Saturday to the Hall-Dale Bulldogs. Kick off is slated for 1:30 p. m. The Rebels will be led into their fifth MVC outing by senior quarterback Ronnie Deegan and halfback Peter Blake. Also seeing action in the backfield will be Levi Brown, the little man who has been inspirational throughout the season for his gigantic efforts as not only a ball-carrier but also as a blocking back. Wayne Cummings who received an ankle injury in the Leavitt contest should be healed and ready to go by game time, Saturday. Others likely to see action will be Doug Brooks and Al Yon.

The Rebels' "seven blocks of granite" remains intact for Saturday's contest with outstanding receivers Dana Melville and Rex Cummings at the ends, Captain Donny Luxton and Timmy Rosenberg at the tackles, Chris Gill and Randy Olson at the guards with Frank Howard holding down the pivot position. Freshman Dick Westleigh will see action at one of the offensive guard positions.

At the halftime of the football game the Rebel hill and dalers will be in action against Lakes Region and Gorham (N. H.) High Schools. The Rebels will be led by juniors Gary Howe, Roger Buck, David Lane and Ray Juhl.

The Rebel runners will see action Tuesday when they travel to Rumford for a meeting with the Panthers and cross-town rivals, the Mexico Pintos.

The Telstar field hockey girls will meet the Dixie girls in a 3:30 home contest on Monday. Thursday will find the Rebels hosting the Berlin (N. H.) team in another 3:30 game.

Although the girls have had their problems breaking into the win column they have played well against each opponent and showed signs of progress on each successive outing. Standouts have been the Learned sisters, Debra, Sheri and Cindy, along with Sharon Dombkowski, and Martha Gauthier.

Mrs. Harold Young, Mason Street, is a patient at the Rumford Community Hospital.
